Dear Mr. Dortch,

My husband and I would like you to know we are very much in favor of being able to keep our mobile phone numbers when we switch phone plans.

Sincerely,

Rosemary and Dick Grutt

As a researcher in the field of mobile communication, I would like to express my full support for docket 95-116. Industry opposition is short-sighted, since more transparency in the industry leads to greater numbers of customers and fosters innovation as artificial barriers in the wireless marketplace are removed.

Companies fearing the loss of customers to other companies with cheaper and better service must learn to compete in the marketplace, rather than seek regulatory protection from fair competition. The European experience with wireless communication shows the importance of transparency in growing the market.

I am writing to urge the FCC to allow wireless phone users to keep their mobile numbers, when switching plans. Thank you for listening and acting on our behalf.
